Blue Springs History

Blue Springs' history, like that of so many Midwestern communities, is tied to the migration of settlers on their westward journey. Pioneers found the area to be an ideal stopover due to the abundance of cool, clean water. The major source of water came from a spring at the mouth of the east fork of the Little Blue River; hence the name 'blue springs.' The presence of water and a need for pioneer supplies led to the construction of a grist mill and permanent settlement at the site of the City's Burrus Old Mill Park.

The community of Blue Springs was organized as part of Jackson County in 1827 and became the fourth settlement in the county, pre-dating Kansas City.

The settlement continued to grow near the springs until 1878, when the Chicago and Alton Railroad announced plans to build a station about one mile east of the original settlement. To take advantage of the commerce the railroad would bring, the town moved its center to the site of the new station and continued its development as a rural trading center.

In 1970, Blue Springs had a population of 6,779. By 1980, the city had more than quadrupled, boasting a population of 25,936. In 2004, the population for the City exceeded 50,000 at 51,910. Today, Blue Springs is one of the fastest-growing cities in Missouri, boasting a population of 54,148.

In the midst of the City's phenomenal growth and new development, community leaders continue to implement programs designed to maintain historical properties in order to preserve Blue Springs' historically significant elements and century-old roots.

GOVERNMENTAL FUNDS — Typically used to account for tax-supported activities, the governmental funds for the City of Blue Springs include the General Fund, Public Safety Sales Tax Fund, Debt Service Funds, Capital Projects Funds (including Tax Increment Financing funds) and the Hotel/Motel Tax Fund. The City's basic services, including police, parks and recreation, streets, development services, maintenance, and capital improvements are accounted for in these funds. The overall slight decrease in fund balances for 2016 resulted from the spending down of bond project funds for the Public Safety Building expansion project and the increase in fund balance in the General Fund due savings in expenditures.

PROPRIETARY FUNDS — The financial activities for the Golf Course, Water Utility, Sewer Utility, and Fieldhouse are recorded in proprietary funds for the City of Blue Springs and are financed primarily by a user charge for the provision of that service, and activities where the periodic measurement of net income is deemed appropriate to provide funding for the capital maintenance and improvements. In July 2016, the City Council passed an ordinance establishing the water and sewer rates for fiscal years 2017, 2018, and 2019. The Golf Course user charges generate enough revenue to pay for operations and a portion of its debt service and a transfer from the General Fund covers the remaining portion. The City's Fieldhouse opened to the public on September 28, 2015, with the mission of providing Fitness and Recreation for All.

special allocation funds of each individual TIF.

Administrative Charges are made up of the funds that are transferred from the proprietary funds to the General Fund to cover the cost of the overhead services that are provided to the Water and Sewer funds by the General Fund. Fines and Forfeits include the fines collected by the Municipal Court.

Licenses and permits include revenues from building permits, business licenses, fireworks permits, and liquor licenses.
